

Statement of participation

Richard Hill

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Get started with online learning

This 6-hour course looked at what online learning is and what it can offer.

Issue date: 22 November 2022

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification.
This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner.

Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/education-development/get-started-online-learning/content-section-overview>

COURSE CODE: OUFL_25

Get started with online learning

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/education-development/get-started-online-learning/content-section-overview>

Course summary

This course will explain how you can study online without putting the rest of your life on hold.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- understand the key aspects of online study
- recognise the main differences between online study and study at a campus-based university
- assess how studying online can match personal interests and preferences, and help to develop skills.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Week 1

Being an online learner

Week 2

Studying online